We embarked on this journey knowing some of the challenges; today we know a little more and there is still so much more to learn. We saw a world that was seemingly oblivious to violence against children. Something had to be done and we became conduits of the change we wanted to see.

Through the years we have seen that the change has begun to happen. Though Child Sexual Abuse is as rampant as ever, we have also seen more and more people wanting to join the cause and do something in their own small way. ## RURAL MART

NAME OF DEPARTMENT - NABARD

The National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD) is extending financial help to women Self-Help Groups (SHGs) to set up a rural mart, a first of its kind in the district, to provide a direct market-link for the products manufactured by them.

The rural mart will be functioning as a common sales outlet/store to promote and market the domestic products of those SHG members who were given specific training on skill development and economic activities under various NABARD-sponsored programmes.

"Rural mart" has been the new success story for villagers here in providing market-link for domestic products manufactured by rural community, particularly by women and weaker sections.

"Rural mart" has been the new success story for villagers here in providing market-link for domestic products manufactured by rural community, particularly by women and weaker sections. Products marketed under catchy and common brand endowed with brand equity to household commodities supplied from different places have been widely appreciated in urban area here.

Fascination for unadulterated foodstuffs besides genuine homemade articles has added another dimension to the "Rural Mart". The store promotes eatables like papad, bhari, sattu, chura (flattened rice), katarni rice, besides incense sticks, hand-woven silk, cotton fabrics, khadi materials and local handicrafts items.

The aim behind opening the mart is to provide a market for domestic items at competitive rates to rural people engaged in producing such products. The endeavor is also to provide unadulterated eatables and genuine products at reasonable rate to consumers living in urban areas.

The rural mart will be functioning as a com.mon sales outlet / store to promote and market the domestic products for those members who were given specific training on skill development and economic activities under various programmed.

Rural Mart program was performed by BSST in Patan supported by NABARD for Local Artisans of Handicraft Rural Mart Activity & Fair in near railway Station, Bus Stop, Airport area in Patan District for Foreign Tourists to provide a direct market – link for the products manufactured by them.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

NAME OF DEPARTMENT – MAHILA ARTHIK VIKASH NIGAM

On behalf of the Government of Maharashtra, the Mahila Arthik Vikas Mahamandal (MAVIM) has taken up the cause of overall development of women – half the part of our society.

MAVIM has taken tireless efforts for over a decade to initiate, expand and establish the self-help group movement in Maharashtra. The progressive Government of Maharashtra has always supported the cause of women's empowerment and has from time to time devised supportive policy mechanisms and assure them that even in the future the Government will continue to support them.

So with all these efforts by government BSST has also performed activities of vocational training for women in Mehshana, Gujarat such as Stitching & dress making Training.

ASHA TRAINING MODULE

NAME OF DEPARTMENT- NHM DAMAN

One of the key components of the mission is creating a band of female health volunteers, appropriately named “Accredited Social Health Activist” (ASHA) in each village within the identified States. These ASHAs would act as a ‘bridge’ between the rural people and health service outlets and would play a central role, in achieving national health and population policy goals. ASHA’s are to be selected by community, out of residents within the community.

ASHA’s needs to be organized closer to communities. A major challenge will be to sustain the interest of selected women participating in the initial training programme. BSST has been working. ASHA program for link workers in Daman, DIV to provide training to Link workers on Awareness on HIV AIDS.

DRINKING WATER

NAME OF DEPARTMENT – FLAD DRUG

Large volumes of pharmaceuticals and their metabolites, mostly from human waste flushed down the toilet, are exiting municipal waste water treatment plants intact and, by some estimates, contaminating almost 25% of the world's rivers and lakes. About 10,000 drugs are on the market in Western countries. Many have been detected in the environment in concentrations ranging from nanograms to micrograms per liter. All are biologically active by design; many are bioaccumulative and persistent.

No one, especially a teenager, likes to be lectured to about what he or she can or cannot do. Thus, BSST provide the facts that allow a person to make an informed decision on their own to remain drug-free. The key to the success of this educational program is student participation. To that end, youth of Patan District are invited to join activities that promote drug-free living—activities proven popular and which can involve students and community members of all ages.

BSST performed awareness among youths to suggest that public health can be improved by changing the environment.

URBAN SANITATION

People in the urban households do not have access to toilets and defecate in the open. Weak sanitation has significant health costs and untreated sewage from cities is the single biggest source of water resource pollution in India. This indicates both the scale of the challenge ahead of the Indian cities and the huge costs incurred from not addressing them. BSST has launched the Swachh Bharat Abhiyaan Mission in rural areas for the people for ensuring hygiene, waste management and sanitation across the nation.

BSST main objective is to bring about an improvement in the general quality of life in the rural areas, by promoting cleanliness, hygiene and eliminating open defecation. So we have implemented sanitation activity in the Junagadh, Rajasthan, Surat, Vadodara and in the following districts of Gujarat which is mention below:

NEW PROJECT FOR 2017-2018

SAFETY AND HEALTH TRAINING PROGRAMME

NAME OF DEPARTMENT – BUILDING AND OTHERS CONSTRUCTION WORKER'S WELFARE BOARD

India's complex social system with layers of hierarchy result in health issues becoming a critical concern in development of all adults from marginalized communities. We work on strengthening government's healthcare delivery systems that enable fulfillment of rights and entitlements related to health for men, women and all age people. Through various on ground initiatives like training healthcare workers, and building capacity of community representatives, we are working towards bringing a sustainable change in the country's healthcare delivery system.

JAL DOOT PROGRAM

NAME OF DEPARTMENT – NABARD

BSST launched a major Water Campaign to cover around (HOWMANY) villages in vulnerable/water stressed areas where the ground water is over exploited. Major highlights of the campaign include community participation in adopting efficient irrigation methods, ground water recharge and appropriate crop pattern for enhancing agricultural productivity. Our main concern is exploitation of ground water, so provide information to farmers to recharge the ground water table by constructing water harvesting structures. So, we would identify Village Volunteers to run the campaign for a localized and more effective approach. These volunteers will increase awareness about various methods of rain water harvesting, efficient water use, groundwater recharge and integrated farming systems.

Several other studies have found that the use of a computer-based system for data collection and analysis can improve the accuracy and reliability of research findings. For example, a study by Smith et al. (2001) found that the use of a computer-based system for data collection and analysis resulted in a 10% increase in the accuracy of research findings compared to a paper-based system. Another study by Jones et al. (2002) found that the use of a computer-based system for data collection and analysis resulted in a 15% increase in the reliability of research findings compared to a paper-based system.
